KJV Isaiah 20:1 In the year that Tartan came unto Ashdod, (when Sargon the

My servant Isaiah shall have walked naked and barefoot three years. (Isaiah 20:3)

The tribute that Hezekiah paid to Assyria (2Kings 18:14-16) is a parenthetical statement put in the narrative to provide background for the invasion of the 14th year. This tribute was paid in the 9th year of Sargon, which was the 3rd year of Sennacherib's pro-regency.

KJV Isaiah 39:1 At that time Merodach-baladan, the son of Baladan, king of Babylon, sent letters and a present to Hezekiah: for he had heard that he had been sick, and was recovered.

Merodach-baladan II reigned 12 years (722-710).

Isaiah 36:1: Now in the fourteenth year of king Hezekiah did Sennacherib king of Assyria come up against all the fenced cities of Judah, and took them.

Sennacherib, i.e. the great royal son of Sargon, acting commander, Rabshakeh or Tartan.

Sargon's commander was Sennacherib, but the Lord slew 185,000 of the Assyrian host when they tried to take Jerusalem. It was afterward that Sargon, in a rage, sent his remaining armies into Egypt.

"The enterprise of Sargon against Ashdod was connected with an enterprise against the great Western Power on the Nile. After the fall of Ashdod, Sargon either went to Thebes (the No-Amon of Nahum 3:8, A.V. margin) and partly destroyed it, as his great grandson Ashur-banipal did more completely, twice over, about half a century later, or else Egypt and Ethiopia surrendered to Sargon without fighting, for they betrayed and gave up Yman the King of Ashod, who had fled to them for refuge, and sued for peace" (Anstey, pg. 209).

KJV Isaiah 37:30 And this shall be a sign unto thee, Ye shall eat this year such as growth of itself; and the second year that which springeth of the same; and in the third year sow ye, and reap, and plant vineyards, and eat the fruit thereof

KJV Isaiah 38:5 ... I have heard thy prayer, I have seen thy tears: behold, I will add unto thy days fifteen years.
