Appendix I: Roman Consul List

The Roman Consul List starts in 509 B.C., but here are listed those from B.C. 100, century by century, to A.D. 541. The Roman use of lists to date events is more accurate than the use of numbers because the historians had to write out the consular names from written master lists. This eliminated the chance of simple digit mistakes. Further, the consular list could not be committed to memory. Try remembering the last 10 presidents of the United States in order, which cover 51 years. Then consider that in the Roman Consular lists, 10 names take at most 5 years. This means that the Roman method only worked with well kept written records.

Besides dating accessions and deaths of Emperors in terms of consuls, Roman historians kept track of the number of years each reigned.
